Certified Prescription safety glasses

When it comes to workplace safety, Specsavers has your eyes covered

The welfare of your employee's eyesight is your responsibility

Caring for the health of your employee's eyesight is crucial for their optimal performance and comfort at work. Inadequate eye protection leads to failure to observe occupational health and safety practices, which is the major cause of workplace eye injuries. Specsavers Certified Prescription Safety Glasses can ensure that your legal requirements are met simply, affordably and easily.

In order to establish the best type of Certified Prescription Safety Glasses for your employees, you should conduct a risk assessment of your working environment on a regular basis.

Our optometrists are professionally qualified and we continually invest in technology that allows us to have state-of-the-art testing equipment in all our practices.

Maybe this is why more Australians chose a Specsavers optometrist for their last eye test than any other optometrist*

Eye tests

Regular eye tests are essential for clear, comfortable vision. We recommend that eye tests be carried out at the time of ordering safety glasses to make sure that the prescription is as accurate as possible.

Our thorough and professional eye tests include Free Digital Retinal Photograph. (Medicare cannot be accessed with employer payment).

Finding the right fit

The most important consideration of any safety frame is the fit. We offer a complete measurement and fitting service before your employee starts using their new Certified Prescription Safety Glasses.
